Regarding change of procedure for setting Fuel Surcharge levels

Dear our Valued Customers,

Please be informed that Japan Airlines International Co., Ltd (JAL) is planning to change procedure for setting fuel surcharge levels. Currently JAL uses an index-based fuel surcharge that is adjusted every three months by using three-month average fuel price. However, after April 2009, JAL will make an adjustment every month by using one month average fuel price. JAL will file this change to the Ministry of Land, Infrastructure, Transport and Tourism.

JAL will continue to reduce costs and enhance quality of our service.

Outline of the Changes:

(After April 1, 2009)

JAL set fuel indicator by using monthly average fuel price of Singapore kerosene reported by US Department of Energy (DOE) and revise applicable fuel surcharge twelve (12) times a year. The changes to the surcharge are effective the first day of each month.

The fuel indicator is average fuel price of the month before last. For example, the surcharge for April 2009 is based on the average fuel price of February 2009.

(Current)

JAL set fuel indicator by using three-month average fuel price of Singapore kerosene reported by US Department of Energy (DOE) and revise applicable fuel surcharge four (4) times a year. The changes to the surcharge are effective the first day of April, July, October and January.

Fuel surcharge revision	Period of average out
April	November – January
July	February - April
October	May - July
January	August - October

JAL will keep on post the fuel price of Singapore kerosene by DOE on our website.
